The International Benchmarking Network for Water and Sanitation Utilities (IBNET) Blue Book is the first published benchmarking of data from 3,000 utilities in more than 100 countries, which helps water utilities and governments improve services for all, including the poor.

This publication summarizes more than a decade of effort of the World Bank and WSP to set the performance assessment standard for water utilities, and apply it to as many utilities as possible worldwide.

The launch of the book will be held on Tuesday September 7th at the WSP Expo Booth.
